

In the crash, Dusenbury says nine other boats working on the extension at Long Key went to sea with large No. 4. He has no intelligence of their fate and fears for their safety.

Officers of the steaming steamer Jennie say that they heard cries for help Thursday night, and following the direction of the sounds, came upon a lot of men floating in the sea, clinging to logs, lumber and small craft. Boats were lowered and the forty-nine men brought here were rescued. Three other steamers, using searchlights, came on the scene and assisted in saving life. How many they rescued was not ascertained by those aboard the steamer Jennie.

The greatest damage done here by the storm Thursday was to shipping. The steaming fleet broke anchor and carried destruction to smaller boats of the fishing fleet. The revenue cutter Passenden was badly damaged at the government wharf, being beached near the Marine Hospital. The Mallory River Coach, the Havana liner Miami, and the Philadelphia liner Alacera remained in port and safely rode out the storm. No damage was done to houses in the city, and no lives were lost.

MARINES SAFE.

Camps Suffered Only Slight Damage in Storm.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 23.—Brigadier-General Elliott, commandant of marines, today received a cablegram from the commandant of marines at Havana, stating that the marine camps suffered only slight damage; that there were no casualties among the men, and that all were well. All the army transports sent to Cuba with troops and supplies have been heard from excepting the Robert Wright and the Laurier, which sailed from Newport News on October 15th with six hundred horses for the fifteenth Cavalry. These troops were under orders to go to Isabel de Sagua, on the north coast of Cuba, east of Havana. Commander-General Sharp this morning received a telegram from Major Wilkins, chief commandant at Havana, stating:

"Commissary department all right. Few stores slightly damaged. No casualties." President Roosevelt today sent telegrams to Governor Magoon, at Havana, and to Governor Broward, of Florida, expressing sympathy for the sufferers by the recent hurricane. In his message to Governor Broward, the President suggested that he call upon the government for aid should it be declared necessary.

NORTHEAST STORM.

Unprecedented High Tides on North Carolina Coast.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 23.—A northeast storm of considerable force has prevailed off this coast today, with unprecedented high tides. However, thus far no damage of great extent has been done, and no disasters to shipping have been reported. At Southport, N. C., near the mouth of the North river, a steamer wharver along the waterfront have been carried away, and the harbor craft there have come to Wilmington for a safer harbor.

TOTAL WRECK.

Four-Masted Schooner Was Lost in Storm.

PORTLAND, ME., October 23.—The four-masted schooner Merion is a total wreck, according to a cablegram received by W. R. Jordan & Co., part owners, from Cuneo, Dutch West Indies. While details are lacking, it is believed here that the schooner J. P. Williams, of South Portland, and eight other boats were in a chase of escape as she was taking on a cargo of salt for this port. The Merion was 95 years old and was built at Philadelphia in 1811. Her value was $20,000.

AT CHARLESTON.

Fences and Trees Blown Down. No Casualties.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 23.—Charleston was the centre of a tropical disturbance for an hour or two today, and with a barometer reading 29.7 and wind of 35 miles an hour times looked very blue. The storm, however, apparently moved a little to the northward and a change of weather as she was taking on a cargo of salt for this port. The Merion was 95 years old and was built at Philadelphia in 1811. Her value was $20,000.

Appeal Circular Issued.

MOBILE, Ala., October 23.—The Chesapeake Bay Association has issued a circular, addressed to the State of Alabama, the State press and the world at large, directing attention to the calamity which befell the State of September 27, and asking for contributions of building material, tools and money with which to rebuild the homes of the homeless against the coming winter.

Rains in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A series of showers of unusual severity swept over New York and vicinity today, flooding streets and making travel extremely difficult. At some points traffic was entirely suspended for a time. The tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and of the Harlem division of the New York Central railroad in the borough of Bronx were submerged, and during the morning rush hours all incoming trains were delayed. The main line of the New York Central road was not affected.

RELEASE PRISONERS AND INVADE MEXICO.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, October 23.—Advices from Rio Grande state that a band of Mexican revolutionists has been organized to forcibly release prisoners captured by the recent raids by the Federal and Texas authorities on the border. The band, Rio Grande City, Del Rio and other points. Men are already in the field, according to reports received. United States Marshal Browder left Houston last night for the border, after sending programs to deputies along the route to take him. It is believed that after releasing the imprisoned revolutionists an expedition into Mexico will be immediately inaugurated.

Organizer Brady Here.

The regular monthly meeting of the Richmond Temperance Union was held last night with a large number of members present. The routine business of the union was transacted and speeches made by the organizer Brady, of the local union.

Rheumatism

Does not let go of you when you apply lotions or liniments. It simply loosens its hold for a while. Why? Because to get rid of it you must correct the acid condition of the blood on which it depends. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands.

THE SHOW CLOSES IN MURKY WEATHER

For First Time Society Turns Out at the Annual Exhibition.

ONE LAMENTABLE FEATURE

New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia Horses Among the Winners.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., October 23.—The closing of the third annual Norfolk Horse Show to-night brought out more people than attended any of the previous performances, and the great coliseum was correspondingly more animated, although, and unfortunately for the Norfolk Horse Show Association and the people alike, the show ended as it began—in murky and disagreeable weather. Not a performance of the show had anything else.

From an standpoint the show was all that could have been asked, the lamentable feature being the injury to Mr. Charles W. Smith. The large attendance to-night is accounted for from the fact that many people refrained from attending the show before, hoping for some real horse show weather, which never came. Hundreds of society ladies, attired in gorgeous gowns, made their first appearance.

Noted horse of famous exhibitors were again on exhibition. Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt again appeared in the arena, driving The Youngster to a big, and so fine an appearance, did the entry make it captured the blue ribbon.

New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Virginia horses were among the winners.

SOCIETY WOMAN WAS MENDICANT

her conduct except her daily practice of leaving her home early in the morning and returning late in the evening. She explained that she had friends in the city and in Mason, whom she visited. A worker for the Associated Charities followed Mrs. Harrison to-day. Half way to town the singular woman turned into a side street and emerged a moment later transformed in appearance.

Her rich attire, hair was hidden under a heavy hood somewhat like those worn by Sisters of Charity. Big-rimmed goggles shut in her brilliant eyes, and from somewhere under the folds of her dress a coin had appeared. From top to toe she was clad in black and would be taken for a blind woman. Only on Walnut Street she began playing, and then the nickels rained. During the fair she visited Piedmont Park, and on cross days she sat crouching just outside the show grounds.

"We will save you of the necessity of doing this," said the Associated Charities representative to Mrs. Harrison this afternoon.

The strange woman began to tremble and suddenly set out for the city's office. There her whole story was related, how she had been kindred in Virginia, how she herself owned considerable property and was away under duress.

"What was your reason for doing this?" was asked her.

"Simply because I wanted to," she said.

Her husband had heard nothing of the case but police, and no inquiries had come from Atlanta regarding Mrs. Harrison. Her name is not known here.

Some citizens look forward to the case as a place where the politician will come from hunting and the taxpayer will be at rest.
